

April 1 (no fools) Update

Hello Healers,

As we focus on everyone's health, safety, and learning, here is your campus update:

What's New:

1. Given the guidance for distancing, Face-to-face and hybrid courses will remain online for the remainder of the semester. We will not, then, be reviewing this decision as previously scheduled for April 13 and 27.
2. Specific information related to your area of study will continue to come to you from your program dean.
3. Take a moment today, the first of the month, and reach out to someone that may need to hear from you or someone that you wish to acknowledge or thank or reconnect with. It's amazing how saying "hello" or "thanks" or "I'm thinking of you" can lift spirits for both the giver and receiver.
4. If you are coming to campus, please note that the water fountains are temporarily out of order. So bring a water bottle with you.

Reminders:

1. As a number of you navigate online learning for the first time, please reach out to your peers, faculty, deans, or student success team if you need support or have questions. Online learning is still together learning.
2. If you have questions please reply to this address: bchsrt@bryanhealthcollege.edu

Healing Acts:

Look for the Helpers. Be a Helper. On Monday we received a box of food for our Blue Healer Bin from colleagues at Purdue University Global. This is just one example of the many donations Bryan Health has received from the community.

We are here. Let us know how we can be of assistance to you.

Forward. Together.

Rich Lloyd, President
