

April 6 Update

Hello Healers,

What's New:

1. We have all heard the news over the weekend that the coming weeks are critical as some states near their apex and other states start seeing a rise in positive cases as the models have been predicting. We must continue social distancing and rigidly following all safety recommendations. The CDC continues to provide updated information.

2. Information regarding the college's summer schedule will be updated in the registration guide this week.

Reminders:

1. Due to the emphasis on social distancing-please make every effort to take your exams and quizzes at home unless you fall into one of the two categories below.
 - a. If you have received accommodations from the testing center, you may choose to come to campus to take your exams. Please email Sheri Paneitz and/or Brenda Neemann to be assigned a classroom for testing.
 - b. If you do not have access to a reliable internet connection for your test please email Sheri Paneitz and/or Brenda Neemann to be assigned a classroom for testing.
2. Coming to campus: You must have your badge with you and must go through the screening process. At the college, only employees and individual students are allowed access. If you are in need of resources for family members let us know and we will work to get them to you. Please do not open the college doors to let others in; we all must go through screening.

Healing Acts:

Daily we hear of companies retooling their businesses to help address specific needs. Here's an article on how Kawasaki Motors Manufacturing here in Lincoln is helping Bryan produce more hand sanitizer.

Forward. Together.
